Hancock math interest increases

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Hancock North Central Math Department Chairman Mike Gemelli reported the number of high school students at the school taking math courses has significantly increased.

A study presented by Gemelli at a Hancock County School Board meeting Thursday sparked discussion on several issues related to educational programs.

"Several board members expressed their concern over progress North Central is making in the math curriculum," Gemelli explained.

"The chart indicating math course enrollment was compiled by the mathematics and guidance department from the past five years of records from that department," he pointed out.

School Board president Woodrow Ladner said, "When you have good accountability in the elementary grades, you'll see increased participation in the advanced high school courses."

Gemelli explained that College Aptitude test (ACT) scores have improved, with some math courses doubling enrollment.

"I challenge any math department in any school system to beat the progress we've made in our department."

News Briefs

FIVE-BISHOP MASS

Bishop Raymond Caesar, SVD, will be honored at a special mass at 2:30 p.m. today at St. Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis concelebrated by three fellow bishops who are also graduates of the seminary. Bishop Joseph Howze of the Biloxi Diocese will preside at the mass and sacred music program. The public is invited. See story and pictures on today's Religion Page.

TURN CLOCKS BACK

Daylight savings time officially ended at 2 a.m. this morning. Clocks at that time should have been set back one hour to 1 a.m., bringing sunrise and sunset one hour earlier. For anyone who overlooked that little task, it's not too late. Set all clocks and watches back one hour now.

PROCLAIMS UNICEF DAY

Larry Bennett, Bay St. Louis mayor, and Johnny Longo, Waveland mayor, have proclaimed Wednesday as UNICEF Day in the sister cities. Youth of the communities will meet at 6 p.m. at Our Lady of the Gulf CYO meeting hall behind the church Halloween night for assignment areas to collect for Unicef and then return for refreshments. Youth groups of the community alternate as the sponsoring group each year for the drive on Halloween night. Funds collected provide food and medicine for the children of the world's poorest nations.

VETS OFFICE CLOSED

The Hancock County Veterans Service Office in the Youth Court Center in Bay St. Louis will be closed Monday and Tuesday due to Veterans Service Officer Mike Ladner's absence while attending a service officers seminar in Jackson.

to the solving of numerous stolen car cases here in recent weeks.

The chief said the youth's involvement is still under investigation and the suspect has been turned over to the Hancock County Youth Court.

He was arrested by Matt Karl, auxiliary policeman, and Chief Williams. The matter has been turned over to the Bay Police Investigator Jim Mallini, the chief added.

Upon questioning by police, the youth told them he took some of the vehicles for use to visit New Orleans relatives.

The vehicles would run out of gas and he would return by bus, the youth told police.

Chief Williams said when asked why he took the bus back rather than take a car in New Orleans, the youth replied, "I could not find a car in New Orleans with the keys left in like I could so easily in Bay St. Louis."

Ashworth was driving the vehicle when he stopped at Main and Toulme Streets and felt the back end of his car rise up. He jumped out grabbing two small blankets and sand with which he was able to quell the flames in a few minutes. East Hancock Volunteer Fire Chief Jay Marsh passing on Main Street summoned the Bay Fire Department. Ashworth's wife reported she had to trim her husband's hair as it was singed from the flames. Indications were that a gas line had broken causing the fire. The owner was to start work yesterday on replacing car parts burned by the flames. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

Biloxi family explains Chandeleur deaths

A Biloxi man and his family fought high winds and water for three hours Oct. 13 to keep their 62-foot boat from sinking the same Louisiana waters where the bodies of two Picaune residents were found near their submerged boat.

A violent, unpredictable storm which developed that night apparently caused the sinking of the 25-foot fiberglass-hulled 'My Pleasure' and the deaths of 30-year-old Sally Herrin and Frank Frierson, 57.

Biloxian Roland Skinner, 49, said Thursday that he and his 23-year-old son Jim fought for three hours to keep his own boat, the double-planked, 62-foot 'Bon gamie,' from sinking that night in the same area. Skinner's wife, Frances and sons Mike, 11, and Mark, 6, also were on board.

'My Pleasure' went down about two miles northeast of Martin Island and was not found until last Friday afternoon by a Coast Guard helicopter.

Herrin was wearing a lifejacket and was tied to the sunken boat. Frierson was found fully clothed the next afternoon. His body was discovered in shallow water at Deadman's Bayou, some two miles from the sunken boat.

Describing the night of the storm,

Skinner said the winds began at about 10 a.m.

At midnight, he said, "we became faced with one of the fiercest storms I have ever encountered in that remote area. We had nothing on the radio to warn us. At midnight, my son, Jim and myself began the battle of our lives."

Skinner said the 'Bon Amie's' bow was 10 1/2 feet above the waterline.

"I knew we had to turn the boat around, and that is when our struggle began. The winds must have been

Bay Council authorizes tower improvements

By ELLIS CUEVAS
In a special meeting Thursday, the Bay St. Louis City Council authorized Advanced Designs Incorporated (ADI) engineers to go ahead with plans for the improvement of the city's two water towers.

Dr. Michael Smith, ADI president, met with the Council and was given authority to draw up plans and specifications on tower cleaning and painting and construction of an improved security fence at North Bay and Washington Street elevated water tanks.

The proposal which was submitted at a Sept. 4 meeting calls for fees of $2,700 for engineering and inspection services at both water tanks and an additional $750 for engineering and inspection services for the two fences.

Dr. Smith said plans and specifications would be ready for the next regular Council meeting Nov. 6 when Council members asked about a timetable on the project.

Smith said a Leonard Street Well project would start next week and should be completed by Nov. 15.

Several subdivisions in the City await the completion of the Leonard Street well improvements before the State Board of Health will let them be tied

Unicef, Red Cross plan joint Cambodian relief

In the face of a tragic situation in Cambodia, where starvation and disease threaten the very lives of 2 1/2 million men, women, and especially children, the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) and the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) jointly are mounting a massive emergency relief program for the people of that devastated country.

Working in cooperation with the World Food Program (WFP), UNICEF and ICRC will provide an initial $111 million in assistance to the Cambodian people over the next six months.

More than half the aid—$69 million—is in food supplies and food transport costs, with 6,000 tons of rice to be delivered before the end of October.

Some $16 million in medical supplies, including drugs and supplies for drinking water, will be distributed, along with blankets, cloth, seeds, tools, sewing machines and educational materials.

And to mount the program so that aid reaches the most desperately needy people in all parts of the country, UNICEF and ICRC will provide air, sea, and river transport, as well as fuel and ground transportation vehicles, such as trucks, motorbikes, bicycles, and fork-lift trucks for unloading of supplies.

Negotiations for this major relief operation were initiated by representatives of UNICEF and ICRC in August, upon their arrival in Phnom Penh with an initial airlift of the most urgently needed supplies. The group represented the first international organizations allowed into Cambodia since 1975.

By late September UNICEF and ICRC officers in Phnom Penh had seen medical supplies and equipment distributed to seven hospitals and five local dispensaries; both in Phnom Penh and in other towns, such as Kompong Speu, Mok Kompong, Takmau and Kompong Chhnang.

Food for children was being distributed through hospitals and orphanages, and, in communities in the northwest of the country, food and medicine had also arrived.

As of October 12, the UNICEF/ICRC relief operation had made seven flights to Phnom Penh, carrying 233 tons of food, medicine, other relief supplies and vehicles to unload and transport them. On October 13, a system of daily flights and boat shipments was inaugurated; the first 300 tons of rice supplied by UNICEF/ICRC arrived in Kompong Som aboard a string of Oxfam-chartered barges that day.

There are now 10 UNICEF/ICRC representatives working in Cambodia and others are expected to join them there as major relief operations get underway.

Current reports from Cambodia indicate that 80-90 percent of the children are suffering from malnutrition, many of them in severe stages. Malaria, anemia and problems caused by intestinal parasites are widespread. The few existing medical facilities are without even the most basic drug supplies, and medical personnel are extremely scarce with only 55 doctors still in the country.

Funds for the UNICEF/ICRC major relief program are urgently needed now. Contributions can be made to UNICEF/Cambodian Relief, U.S. Committee for UNICEF and to local youth who will be campaigning in the Hancock County, Bay-Waveland area Wednesday night.

ELECT THOMAS L. (Tommy) CARVER Justice Court Judge District One

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT 1:

Let me introduce myself and my family: My name is Thomas L. (Tommy) Carver. I am the son of Helen Ladner Carver and the late Charles O. Carver, Sr. of Bay St. Louis. I am the grandson of Irene Williams Ladner and the late Wesley (Jack) Lander of Lakeshore; and the late Sam Carver and Lucy Bourgeois Carver of Waveland.

I am married to the former Loi Usher, daughter of August and Emma Usher of Lower Bay Road.

As a young family man I know the problems that we face as young people; the problems our children will face as they reach adulthood. Now is the time to begin working for a better and safer place in which to raise our children.

Working with Chief Douglas Williams and his staff on the Bay St. Louis Police Department for 18 months I think I have gained valuable experience in the field of crime and criminals.

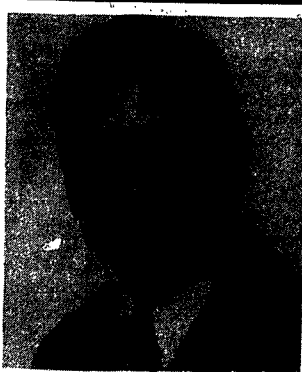

It is an indescribable feeling when you see second and offenders set free with a phone call to the "right person." I have picked up 13 year olds for public drunk and 16 year olds for possession of drugs or marijuana. I think we can all agree in saying something has to be done. NOT next month or next year, but NOW before it is too late. If you feel the way I do please vote for THOMAS L. (TOMMY) CARVER and let's get something done.

If elected judge, the only promise I can make is that I will strive to make District 1 a place where regardless of race, sex, or religion the law will be carried out to the best of my ability. It would be unfair to promise anything I know I could not do. So I ask you, the voters of District 1 to decide who will be your next judge.

Remember your vote is a privilege, so please go to the polls to vote. Thank you.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LOCATION

Any Realtor will tell you that the three most important factors concerning the value of a house are: "Location, Location, and Location." Unfortunately, most home buyers ignore this important advice.

Location is especially vital when buying a house for maximum resale value. Statistics say that you will be reselling your home long before the final mortgage payment is in the mail.

Therefore, take a long, hard look, not only at the present, but the future prospects for the community and immediate neighborhood. Select a location where raw land and house values have an increasing price trend. Especially check into the zoning laws for any unfavorable change which could cause a depreciation in the value of the neighborhood and the resale price of your home in the future. Remember - you can remove, replace or remodel a house, but you can never change the location. So choose carefully. If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in - PRESSMAN REALTY, 1332 Hwy. 90 W., Waveland. Phone 467-2224. We're here to help! Paid Adv.

OVERSEEDING PERMANENT PASTURES

Overseeding ryegrass or ryegrass-clover mixtures on grazed down pastures sod can provide economical winter and spring grazing for the brood cow herd and serve as backup to a stocker grazing program according to John W. Smith, County Agent.

Where possible, overseed pastures that were not planted last year. Overseeding every year can damage the grass stand and increase weed infestation.

Select areas where controlled grazing can be practiced and the breeding program managed. If areas to be overseeded now have heavy grass, cut for hay, clip close or concentrate cattle to remove this forage before planting.

Leaving sod taller than 3 inches will slow ryegrass growth and often little grazing will be produced before spring.

Overseed with no soil or sod disturbance usually causes ryegrass to grow off slowly. Shallow cultivation allows the ryegrass seed to good soil contact and helps reduce competition from the established sod.

A spring tine harrow or field cultivator with pasture plow points ("Triple K" type) or a pulverizing disk with most of the set taken out will give satisfactory surface cultivation.

In heavy sods two trips with these implements may be desirable. A harrow run at a 45 degree angle to direction of the cultivator or disk will help cover weed and smooth the field.

Most old pastures have badly compacted soil and a spring-tine pasture renovator run 8-10 inches deep on the contour will eliminate this problem and provide an excellent seedbed.

This deep breaking loosens the compacted soil layer and allows water, organic residues and surface applied lime and fertilizer to move into the root area. This residue and surface applied lime and fertilizer to move into the root area. This improved condition of the sod will be evident next summer by the increased amount of forage produced from these renovated pastures.

If a chisel plow or subsoiler is used, it will often require a good disking to level the field. After renovating with any implement, the field should be smoothed, seeded; then culpack for quick seed germination.

Seeding 30 to 40 pounds of ryegrass per acre in mid-October will usually provide some grazing by early January. The most efficient use of nitrogen fertilizer is achieved if a small amount of nitrogen is applied at planting, and the balance, to bring to total applied to at least 60 pounds per acre, is top dressed after ryegrass is up to a stand.

Applying a fall rate of nitrogen at planting will give ryegrass a quicker start, but the permanent sod will often be stimulated and use some of this nitrogen. Lime, phosphorus and potash for the whole year can be applied at this seeding.

When a legume is needed, it can easily be added when overseeding. Ryegrass seeding rate must be reduced to 20-25 pounds per acre to reduce competition to the legume.

The annual clovers adapted to Central and South Mississippi are subclover (Mt. Barker, Woogenellup, Tallarook), crimson (Autauga, Chief, Dixie, Tibbee) arrowleaf (Yuchi, meechee) and ball clover. The white clovers (La. S-1, Merit, Regal) are the perennial clovers recommended. Red Clover (Redland, Kenland, Kenstar, Orbit) a biennial, tall growing clover looks promising as a hap crop or in combination with subclover or white clover for grazing.

The later maturing ryegrass blends appear to fit well with red clover combinations to provide grazing into the early summer. Inoculate all clover seed with the specific inoculant for the variety.

Clover adds quality to the forage produced as well as some nitrogen for use by the companion grass.

For complete information refer to Information Sheet #29, "Overseeding and Sod-Seeding Permanent Summer Pastures" and Information Sheet #10, "Cool Season Legumes" available at your County Extension Office.

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY WEATHER & CROP REPORT

WEATHER SUMMARY

(National Weather Service): Very dry weather continued through the week with no rain reported anywhere in the state. A strong ridge of high pressure persisted through the week and held mostly fair weather. Several areas in the north portion had frosts during the week.

The week's lowest temperature was 29 reported at Batesville, Holly Springs and Port Gibson. Highest was 88 reported at numerous areas in the state. Warm dry weather continued over the weekend. A cold front was approaching the state Monday morning bringing thunderstorms into the state.

CROP SUMMARY:

Weather through the week allowed harvesting activities to proceed at a rapid pace. Soybean harvesting advanced to just ahead of the five year average. Rain needed for winter grazing crops.

Soil moisture was short to adequate. Farmers were able to work in the field 6.1 days during the week compared to 5.4 days last week and 6.2 days for the same week last year. Soybean acreage was 99 percent shedding compared to 99 percent last year and 93 percent average. Seventy-one percent of the acreage was mature compared to 79 percent for last year and 69 percent average. Soybean harvesting advanced rapidly with 35 percent of the acreage harvested compared to 41 percent last year and 32 percent average. The crop was in good condition.

Cotton acreage had 100 percent open bolls compared to 92 percent average. Cotton harvesting continues to lag behind average with 28 percent of the crop harvested compared to 78 percent last year and 44 percent average. The crop was in fair to good condition.

Rice was 85 percent harvested compared to 98 percent last year and 87 percent average.

Diesel supplies and gasoline supplies were adequate to tight.

The nation's hog producers are now receiving almost $20 per cwt. less than they did eight months ago when they averaged about $65 per cwt., according to John C. Wilson, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service marketing specialist.

During the first two weeks of October, they received only $37.75 per cwt., he adds.

This drastic drop in farm prices was caused mainly by the large number of pigs farmers are producing. The nation's hog farmers made major expansions in farrowings in the last half of 1978. This has brought sizable year-to-year gains in slaughter since late winter of 1979.

The latest estimate from the USDA Hog and Pig Report indicates farmers now have 57 million hogs and pigs on farms in the 14 major hog producing states. That's an increase of 18 percent from a year ago and the largest number for this time of year since 1970, says Wilson.

The USDA report also shows farmers have a large number of hogs in the heavier categories, virtually assuring high levels of slaughter the rest of 1979.

The volume of slaughter is expected to average as much as 20 percent above year-ago levels much of the remainder of this year and is likely to trend above this level at times. Slaughter the second week of October was about 20 percent larger than year-ago levels.

"Although it's too early to predict how fast the economic conditions will turn around during this cycle, hog farmers still indicate they will continue to produce large numbers for yet some time," says Wilson. "The USDA's mid-September report indicated farmers were planning to farrow three million pigs in December, January and February, 1979."

80. This would be 10 percent more than the same period a year earlier."

"Of course, producers may change their decisions and scale down intended farrowings this winter. Although production costs vary for different regions, many hog producers are now approaching the breakeven level," says Wilson.

Many economist feel that many larger farmers may continue to produce at full capacity until prices average less than the cash (or variable) production costs. But prices in the second half of 1980 depend on the action of hog producers in the next four to six months. If producers begin now to scale down production, we'll see better prices returning in 1980, he predicts.

Prices are now averaging higher than expected on given days because of a continued strong demand for pork. Demand has been good at both the wholesale and retail levels. Relative high beef prices have helped, but it's not likely this will last.

Consumers have an inherent preference for beef and it's not certain how long consumers will eat cheaper cuts of meat. Currently, consumers have access to larger supplies of poultry products.

Further, beef supplies are larger now than they've been in 1979. This is a temporary situation, adds Wilson. Poultry supplies are averaging 11 percent above a year ago and total meat supplies in the rest of 1979 will average above year-ago levels.

"The current view is that farmers will average in the low $30s for the rest of 1979. This average could reach well into 1980 if the current situation doesn't change significantly," says the MCES marketing specialist.

A PROCLAMATION UNICEF DAY OCTOBER 31, 1979 BY THE MAYORS OF BAY ST. LOUIS AND WAVELAND

WHEREAS, 1979 has been designated International Year of the Child by the United Nations, and

WHEREAS, on October 31, 1979, the UNITED NATIONS CHILDREN'S FUND - UNICEF - will celebrate its years of devoted service to the children of the world; and

WHEREAS, UNICEF is an international organization which helps extend health, nutrition and educational services to the deprived children of over 100 countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America; and

WHEREAS, the major concern of UNICEF is with the overall well-being of children and, since children rely on others, many UNICEF programs touch the entire family and community as well as the child; and

WHEREAS, in recognition that the peace of tomorrow's world depends on the well-being of today's children; and

WHEREAS, UNICEF activities at Halloween help further this vital work with children;

NOW, THEREFORE, WE, THE MAYORS OF BAY ST. LOUIS AND WAVELAND, do hereby proclaim the day of October 31, 1979 UNICEF DAY, and call upon all citizens to join with me in honoring the UNITED NATIONS CHILDREN'S FUND for the exceptional contributions it has made to the children of the world.

LARRY BENNETT, MAYOR JOHNNY LONGO, MAYOR City of Bay St. Louis City of Waveland, MS.

It only comes once a year!

Remember the magic of a childhood Halloween? It was the pleasure of pretending, for just one night, to be someone else; be it hobo, princess, or a favorite hero or heroine. And of course it included the all-important collecting of treats from door-to-door.

For many of us Halloween has also meant trick-or-treating for Unicef. We were the ones who answered the call of "trick-or-treat" with candy as well as coins for the needy children of the world.

For 29 years that has been the real magic of each Halloween. Those who contribute and those who collect the coins and dollars have felt satisfaction and pride in their efforts. And for millions of the world's poorest children the magic of a Unicef Halloween has been in the form of nutritious foods, basic health care, clean water, and education.

Oct. 31 is National Unicef Day, a day to remember the magic we can work for children in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

The funds collected for Unicef will go a long way—just $1 will provide vaccine to immunize 25 children against polio.

Your generosity to the children at your door and, in turn, to children oceans away, is certain to bring back some of the magic of Halloween past. Support National Unicef Day.

This year again the youth of our area will be collecting for Unicef. A total of $426 was collected last year and we were sure good use made of the money in helping the children in the poorest countries.

If you are a youth and interested in helping collect, meet with others at Our Lady of the Gulf's CYO hall behind the church in Bay St. Louis at 6 p.m. for assignment area and Unicef collection containers. This of course will be Halloween night.

We hope you will be gracious in your giving and also have a safe Halloween.

Thermostat devices may cause fires

Consumers need to conserve energy, but two types of energy-saving devices which regulate home thermostats could be dangerous.

Some 20,000 "Automatic Day-Night" thermostat controls from the Fuel Sentry Corporation of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., and an additional 19,500 "Home Energy Saver" thermostat controls from the Fuel Gard Corporation of Glastonbury, Conn., are potentially hazardous, according to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

The CPSC has warned consumers that the devices could overheat and start fires.

Additional information is available by calling the CPSC toll-free hotline at 800-638-8326.

Bits 'n pieces

Well, we blew it in Thursday's issue by trying to help on the Day-light saving bit in our column.

One of our subscribers called bright and early Thursday (and the calls continued all day) to say either we were wrong or the Times Picayune in which direction to turn the clocks last night.

After some reasonable and logical calculations, (which we thought we had done last Tuesday but came up with the wrong answer) the Times Picayune was correct and we were in error.

Clocks should be turned back one hour, that is to give more daylight in the mornings. We sure hope we didn't get some people to church two hours early today!

We'll try to remember an old daylight savings time adage we learned as a result. "Clocks spring forward in the Spring, and fall back in the Fall."

Wednesday night is Halloween, and the streets of Bay St. Louis, Waveland and the County will be covered with children out trick-or-treating.

If you are out driving please be extra careful because the little ones will all be involved in the joys of Halloween and have a tendency to dart across a street without looking.

We would like to recommend to the parents of small children that if they do trick-or-treating, parents should accompany the kids.

There are several Haunted Houses around the Bay and Waveland in celebration of Halloween.

Some of the children may be a little bashful, and it probably wouldn't hurt for parents, if they are not afraid, to accompany them through the haunted houses.

Halloween is a time when a lot of folks sort of let it all go and just act naturally.

In a letter to the editor from 18 teachers at North Bay Elementary in Thursday's edition, the teachers felt, "...The reporter who wrote the article only covered one side of the story and did not bother to question any teachers concerning this matter...."

However, Echo Reporter Rich Adams, in compiling the story alluded to in this letter, contacted North Bay Principal Billy Sills twice to confirm facts in the story.

In a situation of this kind, we must assume the school principal represents his teachers, and speaks for them.

It would be completely impractical to contact 18 teachers during the school day, and we are unaware of any one teacher who serves as spokesman at the school.

If a school situation involved conflict between the principal and his teachers, we would then feel obligated to contact teachers directly.

PTO President Noonan's statement quoted in the story states: "I, as a parent, despise the teachers sending my children out on the street for budgetary items." Her statement was misquoted in the letter.

And we agree with the teachers and recommend, almost daily as a matter of fact, "...that Mr. Cuevas instruct his employees to thoroughly research their stories and provide unbiased reporting."

Unicef support

Sea Coast Echo

Dear Editor:

The world's poorest children are counting on us this Halloween, National UNICEF Day.

They rely on our community, and thousands like it across the country, for the funds which Unicef translates into good food, basic health care and education, and clean water.

Their countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America need us too, for Unicef's expertise in planning long-range, self-supporting programs for children and mothers. But we're not alone—for citizens of dozens of other countries are helping Unicef, too.

Be generous when Unicef Trick or Treaters come to your door, and support other benefit events for Unicef this Halloween, National Unicef Day.

Sincerely,
Rev. Willis Britt,

Health and Safety Tip

Board of Health begins
blitz to combat VD

Two Very Different diseases that affect Very Dear People and can be Very Dangerous, have come out of the closet.

Until a few years ago, polite people did not discuss Venereal Diseases—but finally, people realized that the only way to conquer VD is through frank discussion and public awareness.

Nationwide and in Mississippi, VD ranks among the most commonly reported communicable diseases. Efforts to control VD have failed to make a real dent in the widespread problem.

But the Mississippi State Board of Health has begun an expanded maneuver to combat syphilis and gonorrhea. Both are spread from person to person through sexual contact with someone who has the disease; both can be cured.

This expanded approach, known among public health officials as a "blitz" method, will be tested in a small area of the state and expanded to statewide control efforts.

The blitz to combat VD in Mississippi will be directed primarily at syphilis, harder to identify and trace than gonorrhea but 76.1 percent more prevalent today than just three years ago.

State Board of Health figures show 401 cases of early syphilis (in the first year of having the disease) in the first nine months of 1977; 605 cases in that period of 1978; and 706 cases during the period of 1979.

Early symptoms of syphilis—which initially involves the sex organs, mouth, or rectum—are either absent or slight.

The first sign is usually a single painless sore at the site of infection which appears 10 to 90 days after contact with an infected person.

Later signs, appearing two to six months after exposure, include a breaking out or rash on all or parts of the body, mouth sores, sore throat, falling hair, and fever.

Untreated, in four or more years syphilis can cause insanity, crippling paralysis, blindness, heart disease, deafness, or death.

Gonorrhea is more localized and often remains on or near the reproductive system or rectum.

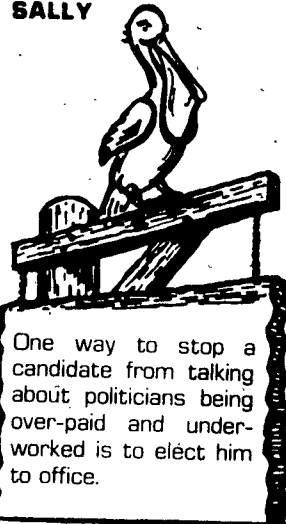

Signs of gonorrhea, which usually appear in three to five days after exposure, are a pus discharge from the sex organs and a painful, burning sensation during urination.

The disease is more easily noticed among men but is equally dangerous to both sexes.

Gonorrhea may cause sterility, arthritis, heart problems, serious pelvic disorders, blindness, and even death.

Syphilis and gonorrhea are spread from persons who have the disease—through sex relations or close body contact. Persons of the same sex also infect each other through sex relations and sex play.

SENATOR COCHRAN
CO-SPONSORING
RURAL ENERGY
BILL

Sen. Thad Cochran (R-Miss.) is co-sponsoring legislation designed to achieve energy independence for agriculture and forestry by the end of this century.

Sen. Cochran, a member of the senate Agriculture Committee, is joining with other members of that panel in sponsoring the bill.

The bill would establish a loan program to promote the development of energy from agricultural and forestry products, and establish four energy research and development centers around the nation.

The Senator told Mississippi State University officials, here for the MSU-Maryland football game at nearby College Park, Md., that because of the university's agricultural and forestry programs "Mississippi State certainly should be in the front ranks of those institutions to be considered for such a program."

Sen. Cochran said the rural energy bill would designate the U.S. Department of Agriculture as the federal agency with primary responsibility for production of alternate fuels from agricultural and forestry products and for rural conservation.

One objective of the bill is to reduce the dependence on petroleum by fifty percent for rural residents and communities by the year 2000. "With the technology in agriculture and forestry already established," Sen. Cochran said, "we can move quickly to meet our energy needs in rural America and lessen our dependence on foreign oil."

In addition to the loan programs for individual farmers, the bill also calls for agencies such as the Farmers Home Administration and rural electric cooperatives to participate in the energy development.

SSC blanks Bay High to become 1979 City-County champions

By ELLIS CUEVAS and WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-

Chaws pounded out a 16-0 victory over a fired-up Bay High team in Tiger stadium Friday night.

Rock Head Coach Barry Jones after the game said, "It took us until the second half to get cranked up. Bay High played a very good game, especially in the first half."

Tiger Head Coach Smuffy Smith commented, "Defensively we made Stanislaus work for every point. I feel like we played a good game. We could have done better in certain areas."

The Rocks scored their first touchdown with 7:45 left in the third quarter when Scott Senner rambled in on a 14 yard run. A soccer style kicker, Jaun Betanzos added the extra point giving Stanislaus a 7-0 lead.

The first tally came as the Rocks had received the opening kick-off for the second half and using seven plays aided by two penalties marched from their own 28 to paydirt. Half back Keith Pfister and Senner churned out the yardage for the score.

Two more points were added after being set-up by a Senner punt which landed inside the Tiger five and died on the two yard line as the fourth stanza was winding down. Tiger Quarterback Chuck Benigno was nabbed from behind by Mark Lichtenstein for a safety, giving the Rocks a 9-0 margin with 4:24 left in the game.

Final tally of the game came after the free kick by the Tigers was fielded on the Rocks 39. Senner scored his second TD of the game with only six seconds left on an eight yard run. Mike Horn, Senner, and Pfister made key gains in the 12 play drive giving the Rocks the last touchdown and a 16-0 victory.

The reaction from overflowing Tiger stadium could be heard on each play of the game as supporters were about in equal numbers for both teams with many fans on the fence in the inter-city rivalry from the kick-off to the final gun.

Stanislaus lost the toss as the game started and the Tigers took the opening kick-off but were unable to move and were forced to punt.

The outmanned and underweighted Tiger defense bent numerous times in the first half but came up with the big plays to stop Rock drives.

Rock-A-Chaw fans were alive as their team was heading for the goal line on first possession but were stopped on a pass interception by Stephen Hargett on the Tigers 10.

The Tigers moved from deep in their territory for one first down and were forced to punt from their 24 to the Rocks 41. Stanislaus came marching back down the field to again be stopped by a fumble on the 12 recovered by Bay High, as the first quarter ended.

Penalties were numerous in the game with Stanislaus receiving 10-130 yards and Bay High 6-65.

The Rocks registered 16 first downs to the Tigers 7 in gaining 247 yards on the ground to 83 and 33 by via the air against a minus 11 for Bay High, who completed one pass.

Coach Smith reported, "The key point in the game was when defensiveman Jeffrey Smith was injured. Stanislaus played a good hard football game."

Coach Jones stated, "We hope we can continue the series of games with Bay High, as it is of value to the community and state and especially the alumni of both schools."

"The victory tonight was a team victory, every member of the team did his part," allowed Rock Coach Jones.

"Offensively we should have scored points," in stating why the Tigers lost said Coach Smith.

Both coaches were pleased with the tremendous amount of support by the number and noise of the fans throughout the contest.

The only other threat of a score in the game came in the second quarter when Jaun Betanzos attempted a long field goal which was wide of the crossbars.

Quarterbacking chores were handled by Gary Sotak for the Rocks and Chuck Benigno for the Tigers the entire contest. Stanislaus, 4-3, will host Pass Christian next week and Bay High, 2-5 will play East Central at Tiger Stadium in a game called off earlier this season because of Hurricane Frederic. "A drink 'n' talk" ceremony a formal dedication of the Tiger Booster dressing rooms took place at mid-field.

Pirates dominate East Central 34-0

By EDGAR PEREZ

A sticky-fingered Pass Christian Pirate ball club, playing virtually error-free football in McDonald Stadium Friday night, dominated the action in a rousing homecoming defeat of the East Central Hornets of Jackson County.

The Hornets were unable to capitalize on the few mistakes the Pirates did make—three pass interceptions and one bobbed snap from center—as a solid defense supported a rolling Pass offense which racked up 34 big ones to zip for their guests.

The season's third victory for the Pirates Friday was a pure case of 'the shoe being on the other foot' as they kicked the fumbleitis which had plagued them over the past few weeks.

East Central dropped the ball on each of its first three plays from scrimmage, setting the tone for a total of eight fumbles in the ball game which made them look like Pirates of old.

The highly-touted Gene Lang lived up to the pre-season estimates of his talents Friday as he raced 162 yards in 18 tries and connected on a 48 yard, fourth quarter touchdown aerial to Dwight Dedeaux.

Lang scored three of the Pirates' five touchdowns rushing, in addition to a two-point conversion.

The other Pirates' touchdown came when tackle Donald Dedeaux scooped up a Hornet fumble in the fourth quarter at their 25 and raced in for a touchdown.

Fullback John Pat Swanier connected on two of four tries at one-point conversions.

Lang posted the first score with 5:25 left in the first quarter on a 22 yard run which capped a 50 yard drive in the first Pass series.

The two-point conversion came when Lang scored on a handoff from quarterback Smokey Swanier. John Pat Swanier faked the kick.

Lang came right back when the Hornets were forced to punt after three tries—with a 30-yard scoring dash 10 minutes into the first quarter.

The PAT kick was wide. Pirates Lang, James Cannon, Smokey Swanier, John Pat Swanier and Oscar Bailey joined forces in Pass' third possession to move the ball from their own 34 to the third touchdown.

Lang connected with Michael Hall in the series for 10 yards, broke away for another 22 yards running, and plowed six yards with Hornets hanging all over him for the score.

Swanier's kick was good at this point, the Pirates went to the bus leading 21-0.

The Hornets managed to break into Pirate territory for the first time midway through the third quarter, but neither team scored in the period.

The Hornets failed in a fourth down pass attempt for needed yardage after taking an errant Swanier aerial into the Pirate 35.

Pass took possession and seven plays later Hornet John Boyd snatched the second wayward Swanier pass, taking the ball into the Pirate 35.

Calls of clipping and unsportsmanlike conduct, both against east Central-left the Hornets with first and ten at their own 20, however.

The Hornet quarterback dropped the ball on second down, and Tackle Donald Dedeaux stepped in for his moment in history, scooping up the loose ball and heading for six points from about the 25-yard-line.

Another Swanier kick was good, giving the Pirates a 28-0 lead.

Hornets settled in after the kickoff with a first down at the Pass 44, but dropped the ball to a vigilant John Pat

Swanier.

A holding penalty gave Pass first and ten at their own 40. After a few tries on terra firma yielded little, Lang uncorked a 48-yard bomb to Dwight Dedeaux for the Pirates fifth touchdown.

Another wide boot by John Pat salted down the score for the night at 34-0, just spicy enough for a hungry homecoming crowd.

Warriors ambush Hawks in 40-0 shutout

By RICH ADAMS

Sports Editor

The Hancock North Central Hawks lost a disheartening homecoming contest against undefeated d'Iberville Friday night, 40-0.

HNC Head Coach Irvin Favre called the loss "disappointing," adding he hoped for a closer contest against the Pascagoula River Conference leaders.

"I am disappointed. I thought we would play a better game against them. I don't want to take anything away from d'Iberville, but we should have done better," Favre said following the shutout.

"When a team does not make any mistakes, the game becomes tough. When you play a good team, you usually start a drive 80 yards back, and if you make one mistake, that good team will capitalize," he continued.

"I am truly disappointed. We should have played a better game," he emphasized. The Warriors played almost mistake-free ball as they did not receive on penalty called against them compared to seven penalties for a loss of 75 yards called against the Hawks.

Hancock won the toss and elected to receive, taking the ball on their own 28 yard line.

Lloyd Henry and Willy Santiago picked up a pair of first downs, but on a fourth-and-three situation, the Hawks were forced to punt.

The snap from center to Faron Hoda was low, and d'Iberville planted the punter on the Hawk 43 to take over with good field position.

After short gains by Greg Higgenbotham and Quarterback John Whitfield, Higgenbotham ran off tackle for a 15 yard romp which gave the Warriors first and 10 on the HNC 15.

Whitfield took the next snap around left to score from 15 yards out with 6:31 remaining in the first stanza.

Donald Williams' conversion attempt was good and the Warriors began their assault on the Hawks, 7-0.

Hancock took the ensuing kickoff on their 29 yard line, and moved to the 40 as Larry Peterson broke over the line for a gain of 11.

Hancock was hit with a 15 yard illegal motion infraction, and three plays later were hit with a five yard illegal procedure call.

On a fourth-and-19 situation, Hoda booted a 50 yard punt, giving the Warriors a first down on their own 36.

HNC's Santiago picked off a Whitfield pass on the d'Iberville 33, and Hancock began what appeared to be a scoring drive.

Henry ran for 23 yards to take the ball to the 12 yard line in two plays, followed by a Bobby Devaughn to Santiago screen which picked up five yards after the quarter ended.

On a fourth-and-two situation, Henry was held to no gain and the Hawks gave the ball up on the d'Iberville seven yard line.

After numerous short gains by Higgenbotham and Bobby Weaver, James Evans broke loose for a 28 yard ramble to the HNC 42.

He then took the ensuing handoff 42 yards for a score with 8:48 remaining in the half.

Williams' point after attempt was off the mark, and d'Iberville led 13-0.

Hoda was again forced to punt, and the Warriors had the ball on their own 49.

After progressing inside HNC territory, Whitfield dropped the ball and HNC's James Persinger pounced on the loose ball.

Two plays later Devaughn dropped the ball and Warrior Keith Richard nabbed the loose pigskin.

With 50 seconds remaining in the half, Whitfield hit Richard in the end zone from 13 yards out for a score.

The Warrior signal called pitched out to Evans, who scored a two-point conversion to make the halftime score 21-0.

d'Iberville came back from the lockerroom ready for action and moved the ball 72 yards in 10 plays to score.

A quarterback dive by Whitfield on a fourth down situation revitalized the Warrior offense, and two plays later Whitfield hit Weaver all alone in the end zone for a score with 7:13 remaining in the third period.

Williams was successful on his conversion attempt making the tally 28-0. Devaughn attempted to go to the air three times in the next series, failing each time to connect with receivers.

d'Iberville took the ball on a punt from their own 42 and moved downfield to score again.

Near the end of the drive, Evans ran for 12 yards to place the ball on the 23 yard line.

Higgenbotham then carried the ball 20 yards to the three, followed by a dive with 2:58 remaining in the period to score.

The conversion was no good and d'Iberville led 34-0.

On the following series Hancock was forced to punt, and from his own 35, Hoda booted the ball to the d'Iberville five yard line.

The second string Warriors had come in, and despite large gains by Keith Talley, d'Iberville was forced to punt.

Hancock gained possession, but again Devaughn could not find receivers and had to punt.

The Warriors had the ball on the HNC 40 and moved downfield on runs by Talley and Dave Lane.

Talley ran the extra five yards with 3:58 remaining in the game to score.

The conversion was blocked by Santiago and the score stood at 40-0.

The Hawks travel to play St. John at 7:30 p.m. Friday night.

Gulf Park campus is site of College Career night

The fifth annual "College-Career Night" on the Gulf Coast will be Tuesday 6:30 p.m., on the University of southern Mississippi-Gulf Park Campus in Long Beach.

This program is a joint effort sponsored by the guidance department of the following area high schools:

Coast Episcopal, d'Iberville, Gulfport, Harrison Central, Long Beach, Pass Christian, St. John of Gulfport, Hancock North Central and Bay High School.

The program gives high school juniors, seniors and their parents an opportunity to meet with admission counselors of leading colleges and universities in Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana and Tennessee.

Also present will be representatives from all of the military branches, academies and ROTC.

HNC Math

Gemelli added.

Superintendent Terry Randolph said that he could not get certified mathematics teachers for the junior high school for $9,400 a year because most new graduates are grabbed up by large industries.

"Gulfview has never had a certified math teacher and a lot of A-K certified teachers don't like math," Randolph added.

Board Member Louie Ladner suggested a curriculum coordinator for the county school system.

Woodrow Ladner urged that Gemelli check on curriculum in the lower grades.

Assistant Superintendent Harlan Hill noted the state's accountability and Instructional Management Plan (AIM) will be "a five year developmental plan to improve instruction in accredited schools."

He added that the board should wait until the AIM plan is launched before considering a coordinator for the county schools.

Woodrow Ladner commented that, "Some teachers said they would resign if an accountability study is made...but I'm ready for them to resign."

Gemelli suggested that the school board authorize him to go to colleges and universities in Mississippi and Louisiana with a slide presentation and information on Hancock County for the purpose of "selling" graduates on the county.

Randolph countered that the school board has already advertised extensively for teachers.

"Ads are one thing, but talking to people personally is much more effective in this," Gemelli contended.

John Ladner, a Hancock County resident, appeared before the board to complain that some 16th section land had been reclassified by the school board. Ladner said he had made a call Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. to the State Land Office.

Randolph said that the land in question had not been reclassified by

New dealer tag law effective November 1st

A new, tougher motor vehicle dealer tag law becomes effective Nov. 1 and inspectors of the Motor Vehicle Comptroller's office are in the process of certifying retail for the 1980 tag year.

The new law does several things that put a tighter control on the use of dealer tags, according to Comptroller Joe Sharp.

"One of the primary things," said Sharp, "is specifically defining what is required to be a dealer. Under the old law a dealer could qualify for a permit with little or no apparent place of business."

Beginning with the new tag year, however, dealers must have a place of business which meet certain specifications. MVC is required to inspect each dealership prior to issuing a permit and make an additional inspection within the year.

The dealer tag law was strengthened in other ways. Permit fees were raised from $10 annually to $100. For the first 12 tags issued, the price per tag will be $35 plus a $2.75 tag fee compared to a flat $10 per tag charge previously.

Each tag after the first 12 will cost $75. Dealer tags will distinguish the type of dealership a permit is issued to. For example, new car dealers will have "New" inscribed on the tag, motorcycle dealers will have "Motorcycle," heavy truck dealers will have "Truck" etc.

Fines for violation of the dealer tag law have also been toughened. A first offense is $100, second offense $250, and third and subsequent offenses $500 and forfeiture for one year of all dealer license plates assigned to the dealer in violation.

the school board and invited Ladner to again call the state land office.

The Board was invited to Hancock North Central's student council meeting and homecoming parade.

In other business, the board:

- Approved the September claims docket;

- Approved assistant principal's salary at Hancock North Central of $14,680;

- Authorized superintendent and school board members to attend a Gulf Coast Regional School Board meeting in Gulfport, Oct. 25;

- Authorized three school persons to attend a Mississippi Community Mental Health Retardation Council meeting in Gulfport, Oct. 25;

- Approved release of Steven Jaye Hennessy from Hancock County School District to Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District for one year;

- Set date for a student expulsion hearing Nov. 30;

- Hired substitute teachers Debbie Landrum and Elaine Dawsey at Charles B. Murphy School for the 1979-80 year; and

- And accepted the resignation of part-time custodian Jacqueline Bradley due to illness.

The board tables until its next meeting:

- Approval of a field trip to New Orleans for seventh and eighth grade students at Gulfview until the matter clears proper channels;

- A request by Randolph to increase the price of milk in the Special Milk Program;

- Any action regarding assistant principal's quarters at Hancock North Central;

- And the hiring of a temporary maintenance person at Charles B. Murphy School.

The next meeting is set for Nov. 3.

Commission still uneasy on CMZ

Airlines operation locates at Stennis

By WAYNE DUCOMB

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission passed a resolution Thursday night endorsing the immediate rental of four offices to Mid Continent Airlines Corp. in the Stennis International Airport terminal buildings.

The resolution will be brought before the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Nov. 5 for final approval.

Mid Continent is leasing office space for $300 per month for one year with an option to renew for another year.

Company Spokesman Dale Fitzhugh said the corporation plans to establish a southern regional office in Hancock County for its timber services division.

Mid Continent has the right to sublease office space with the approval of the commission. Fitzhugh explained, "In two years the offices will be totally occupied by our company."

"We will serve clients from Texas to the upper part of Florida with most of our work in Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. This is where they're spending the money on trees and we want to be here," Fitzhugh added.

Four local people are employed by Mid Continent out of 24 employees.

Commission Director Wilson Webre stated, "They will rent the entire building except for one office, two store rooms and the lobby."

Initially, the company plans to have two large airplanes and three helicopters utilizing the fuel, parking and maintenance available from the present fixed base operator.

Mid Continent plans agricultural aircraft sales and aircraft insurance in addition to their present services.

The Commission tabled a resolution calling for the legislature to amend House Bill 974, titled Coastal Zone Management, for further study.

Webre stated, "The commission would like an opportunity to air this bill. No one's against the intent and purpose of the bill but, the Commission is asked to bite the bullet in accepting this proposal."

Commission Attorney Robert Genin said the commission wanted "present and future" lands in Port, Bienville Industrial Park excluded from the bill.

"This would allow cities and counties up and down the coast to approve the overall plan," Genin stated.

"The Bureau of Marine Resources will control everything up and down the Coast if this bill is not amended," Genin explained.

"Personally, I feel the public should have a right to vote on the bill," Genin added.

He commented, "Several states have not passed the bill, those states who have, amended it and I fail to see any advantage coming from the bill."

Bureau of Marine Resources Consultant Victor Frankiewicz of Bay St. Louis said, "CVM enables states to set out an orderly program of industrial, development and environmental protection."

The bill will place lands within 1,000 feet of the channels in Port Bienville Industrial Park at under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Marine Resources.

The bureau also would issue permits to any non-water related industries locating within the 1,000-foot zone.

Webre added, "It is a simple bill, it regulates just industrial parks, not hotels, motels, restaurants or any other type of business locating by water."

In other business, the commission approved payment for renewal of license tags for their pickup and dump truck.

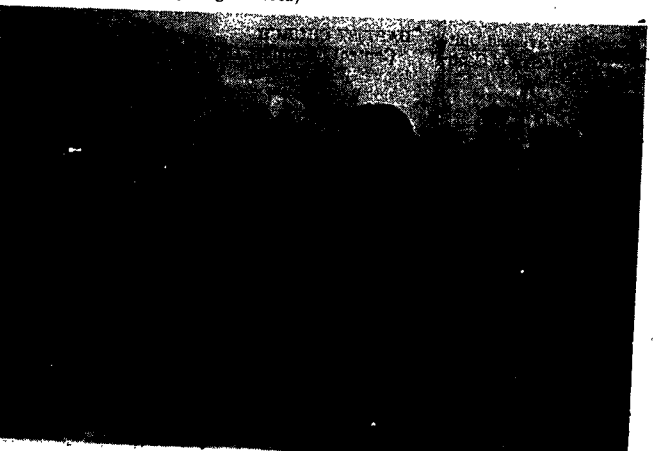

—Authorized payment to Loftus Equipment Co. for a flail mower costing $2012.37.

—Approved a pre-application to the FAA for extension of the existing aircraft apron at Stennis International Airport. The FAA will share 80 percent of the costs for extension with the commission.

The meeting was at commission offices located on Hwy. 603, Waveland.

MEC News

MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL - THE STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

ENERGY ANSWERS FROM MEEC-MCES

Q. With the cost of electricity and gas skyrocketing, I plan to buy wood and use my fireplace to help heat my house this winter. My neighbor says my house may cost me if I'm not careful. What does he mean? S.H., Louisville.

A. There are two main ways to go wrong when depending on a fireplace for heat. One is to be unaware of standard firewood measurements and reasonable cost; the other is to use the fireplace (generally a poor heat producer anyway) inefficiently.

Wood is sold by the truckload (what you see is what you get and by the cord. In a standard cord, the wood is cut in four-foot lengths and stacked in a pile four feet by eight feet. A "face" cord is a stack four feet high and eight feet long, with sticks of any length. It usually equals about half a standard cord. Be sure you're paying only for what you're getting.

The standard fireplace, which uses indoor air for combustion, is only about 10 percent efficient. Most of the heat, released in the volatile gases freed by burning, goes straight up the chimney. Since air to keep the fire burning is taken from the room in which the fireplace is located, the fireplace uses up the air already heated with electricity or gas.

For example, the air in a 1400 sq. ft.

house is used up every 19 to 22 minutes just to keep the fire burning, and cold replacement air which will follow the same route is being heated mechanically at additional expense, according to Robert Parker, leader, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service forestry department.

Information on how fireplaces work and how they can be made more efficient is available in an MEEC-MCES publication, "Fireplace, Friend or Foe," MEEC-18. It is available from local Extension offices or the MEEC.

Q. A friend tells me I probably use more energy washing dishes by hand than she does with her dishwasher. Can this be true? P.M., Biloxi.

A. It depends on how you wash your dishes and on how effectively she uses her dishwasher. The key is the amount of hot water used.

Dishwasher cycles average a running time of 60 minutes and use 13 to 16 gallons of hot water. If your friend washes only full loads of dishes, and opens the dishwasher door to allow contents to air-dry rather than relying on the automatic drying portion of the cycle, she may out-conserve you. A typical dishwasher uses 363 kilowatts of electricity a year.

Hand-washing dishes equivalent to a dishwasher load uses between 15 and 23 gallons of hot water - more if the water runs constantly. The difference in the amount of hot water required will determine which method consumes less energy.

News About Pain Relief

By Dr. Arthur S. Freese

TREAT THE COMMON COLD WITH CARE

Nearly everyone has suffered from the sneezes, sore throat, coughing, fever and headache of the common cold.

The cold is the most frequently occurring infection, afflicting most Americans at least once a year. It can occur in any climate, any time of the year.

The cold is caused by a virus infection of the membranes of the nose and throat, which may also affect the sinuses, ears and chest. It is so common because there are over 100 different cold viruses.

A cold is easily spread when the sufferer sneezes, coughs or talks, scattering the virus in mucous droplets into the surrounding air. Handkerchiefs, eating utensils, and personal contact may also transmit colds from one person to another. Luckily, colds are usually mild and last only three to seven days. After the third day, the cold symptoms usually subside.

If you are suffering with a cold, adequate rest, nutrition and the use of appropriate medication will help relieve the symptoms and you will be well in a few days. Common sense and pampering are the best cold-fighting methods. Follow these suggestions:

• Avoid excessively cold temperature and wet weather. Although bad weather and wet feet don't cause colds, they can make one worse.
• Get plenty of rest. Avoid over-fatigue.
• Increase liquid intake. Many doctors recommend taking eight ounces of juice or water every two to three hours.
• Take a pain reliever to relieve headache, general achiness and fever discomfort. TYLENOL® acetaminophen is a good choice because aspirin may upset a delicate stomach often associated with a cold.
• Check your temperature several times a day and record.
• Call the doctor if there is no improvement after the fifth day if your temperature is over 101 degrees several times a day, or if you have an earache, chest pain or shortness of breath.

BIRTHS

MATTHEW JOSEPH CHINICHE

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chiniche of Biloxi announce the birth of their second child and second son, Matthew Joseph, Sept. 29 at Howard Memorial Hospital, Biloxi. He weighed five pounds, six ounces.

Mrs. Chiniche is the former Sharon Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin M. Ladner of Clermont Harbor. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Peter Chiniche, Bay St. Louis, and the late Mr. Chiniche.

PRJC Alumni awards scholarships

Pearl River College's Alumni Association awarded six scholarships, one for each county supporting PRC, during the half-time of the Wildcat-Co-Lin Wolves football game in Poplarville Saturday night.

George Dale, president of the PRC Alumni Association and Mississippi's insurance commissioner, made the presentations as part of the formal activities of Pearl River's Homecoming 1979.

Recipients of the Alumni Association Scholarships are Virginia Kay Reid, Poplarville High School, Pearl River County; Henry A. Jones, Hattiesburg, Forrest County; Paul Cuevas, Hancock North Central, Hancock County; Thomas James Iovino, Prentiss High, Jeff Davis County; Angela Sue Armstrong, West Marion High, Marion County; and Charlene D. Cameron, Purvis High, Lamar County.

Members of the 1949 Championship football team, which played for Coach T. D. "Dobie" Holden, reported they collected $650 for the T. D. Holden Scholarship Fund. Each year two Holden Scholarships are presented to football players.

The scholarship fund was started by the 1949 team but other Wildcat alumni are now contributing to the fund in honor of Coach Holden.

OLG plans Penny Party Tuesday

Goblins, ghosts and spooks will be among those attending annual Penny Party festivities Tuesday on O.L.G. campus from noon to 3 p.m.

Every year BSL Catholic Elementary School PTO sponsors this "afternoon of fun."

This year special activities are planned for those who want to share "in on the fun." Hot dogs, soft drinks, baked goods and cotton candy will be served.

Games include baseball throw, double game, grab bag, fishing pond, spinning wheel, bingo, cake walk and the Black Cat bean bag throw.

White elephant and plant booths will feature bargains. There will also be a spook house for those who dare and pony rides for kids.

This year the great raffle is for a brand new moped.

"Come and see it and have a good time at our Penny Party," a school spokesman said.

Chief deputy addresses Hancock AARP

A meeting of the Hancock County Chapter No. 1114 of the American Association of Retired Persons was held recently at the Waveland Civic Center with the President, Mrs. Esther Oschmann, presiding.

After the opening prayer and the pledge to the flag the membership chairman, Mrs. Julia Loup, reported 185 members paid up to date.

Ron Peterson, Chief deputy sheriff gave a talk about ways which will help prevent crime, mugging, robbing and drug abuse.

Also ways to prevent the same person committing the same crimes were discussed.

Barbara Rappold, Waveland city clerk, reported that Mayor Longo was with officials at the sewerage plant and all members were invited to join the mayor there after the meeting and all questions they have will be answered.

Mr. Joseph Servat reported he has 25 persons enrolled for defensive drivers course to be given Nov. 13 and 14 at Waveland Center.

Mr. Henry Mahan, Civil Defense Chairman gave a report on the work being done by that group.

Several AARP members are active in this project, and Mr. Mahan said he needs a few men to drive the station wagon.

Mrs. Oschmann talked to members about a trip to "Gran Ole Opry." Theresa James, Director of RSVP explained this trip will take place in April. Reservations should be made now at the RSVP office.

Mr. Paul Loup, assistant state AARP director for South Mississippi, gave a very informative talk touching on several important subjects.

Mrs. Oschmann welcomed new members and reminded everyone to try to bring a new member at each meeting.

Those having a birthday in October were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Geraci and Andrew Collins. They were each given a gift.

Mrs. Oschmann made the birthday cake.

Those having an anniversary in October and receiving a gift were Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Geraci.

The nominating chairman, James Hubert, reported that after working with the committee several times and much deliberation they have a slate of officers and all have agreed to take office.

All members having a birthday or anniversary in November will be recognized at the next meeting. At the close of the meeting coffee and cake were served and enjoyed by all.

Trudell, Ray wed in double ring ceremony

Karen Ann Trudell, daughter of Mrs. Helen Matherne Trudell of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Michael Wayne Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy C. Ray, also of Bay St. Louis, Saturday afternoon, Oct. 13, at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Rev. Louis Lohan performed the double ring ceremony, and a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Ben Hille Jr., organist, Bay St. Louis.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Curtis F. Matherne Sr., the bride wore a formal gown of white organza fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline enhanced by pearls, an empire waistline and bishop sleeves.

The slender skirt featured a triple tier of Chantilly lace and a chapel train of matching lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of Chantilly lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white silk roses and miniature carnations interspersed with silk ivy and baby's breath.

Mary Catherine Trudell attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Erin Rowley, Chalnette, La., cousin of the bride; and Roxanne Mauffray, Kiln, Miss.

Lori Hobson, Bay St. Louis, niece of the groom, was flower girl.

They wore floor length rust color gowns fashioned with accordion pleated skirts and chiffon capelets. They carried nosegays of rust and peach daisies interspersed with baby's breath and autumn leaves.

David Ray, Bay St. Louis, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Tad Black and David Trellis, both of Bay St. Louis.

Richard Trudell, Jr., brother of the bride, and Joseph Cabiness, cousin of the groom served as ushers. Jeffrey Cagle, Port Allen, La., cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride received guests wearing a floor length beige quiana gown with corsage of off white silk roses; the mother of the groom chose a peach quiana floor length gown and a corsage of matching silk roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Home.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Curtis Matherne Jr., Biloxi; Mrs. Charles Matherne, Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Arthur Cagle, Port Allen, La.; aunts of the bride; Mrs. Paul Laguens and Mrs. Marcel Guenot, both of Arabi, La., great-aunts of the bride; Mrs. Shirley Stockman, Mrs. Gary Griffin, Bay St. Louis; Mrs. A. J. Chapman III, Miss Harriet Bellone, Waveland; and Miss Frayna Frankiewicz, Bay St. Louis, cousin of the bride.

For their wedding trip the bride chose a deep Burgundy dress with matching accessories.

The couple will reside in Hahnville, La.

Nuptial mass unites Necaise-Necaise

Mary Yvette Necaise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis E. Spiers of Perkinston, Miss., became the bride of Larry Joseph Necaise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Necaise of Rocky Hill Saturday afternoon, Oct. 13, at a Nuptial Mass in Infant Jesus of Prague Catholic Church.

Rev. Pierre Hissey performed the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Paula Fay Necaise, organist of Sellers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory crepe de chine over bridal satin fashioned with a sweetheart neck, bishop sleeves and fitted waistline with a chapel length train embellished with appliques of Alencon lace and seed pearls.

Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion, edged in matching lace and seed pearls, fell from a lace Juliet cap.

She carried a bouquet of ivory and mauve silk roses and baby's breath entwined with pearls.

Susan Cuevas attended her cousin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Judy Spiers, Sellers, sister-in-law of the bride; Regina Necaise, Rocky Hill, sister of the groom; Vickie Necaise, Rocky Hill, cousin of the groom; Katrina Necaise of Crane Creek was flower girl.

They wore formal length A-line mauve dresses and carried a single long stem mauve rose.

Ronnie Patton, Kiln, was best man. Groomsmen were Dewayne Cade, West, Ms., brother-in-law of the groom; Devron Cuevas, White Cypress, cousin of the bride; and Lonnie Necaise, Necaise Crossing, cousin of the groom. Malcom Ladner served as ring bearer.

Arrangements of white gladioli and lavender mums decorated the church complex for the reception following the ceremony.

The couple will reside in Sellers Community.

Herds of 25 elephants are featured in both the show and the menagerie. The cast of human performers includes more than 50 appearing in the United States for the first time.

The performance includes lions and tigers presented by youthful John Marrone, three somersaulting troupes of flying trapeze acrobats, prancing liberty horses, 14-year-old Wally Eastwood who juggles ping-pong balls with his mouth, five rings elephants, tightwire wizards, Miss Martha demonstrating juggling feats while hanging only by her hair, and an augmented contingent of clowns.

Also to be seen are Freddie, an African lion who rides an Indian elephant, single trapeze acts, aerial cradle exponents, barebackriders, contortionists, magician Phil Chandler, tumblers, trampolinists, balancers, rolling globe and roly-boly acrobats, and clever dogs. The entire performance is backed by a large, brassy circus band.

Aera residents are invited to the show grounds on circus morning to witness a spectacular free show—arrival, unloading, and erection of the mammoth tent—as large as a football field from goal posts to goal posts—and unloading, watering, and feeding of the many wild, exotic, and domestic animals.

Tickets will be available for performances at the doors, and the circus midway will be open one hour each show to allow time for inspection of the animals and other special attractions.

Construction Women name new officers

The installation banquet of WICS Chapter installed the new officers. Held Tues., Oct. 16, 1979, at the Outgoing President, Sybil Blum Holiday Inn, after being postponed by Hurricane Frederic.

The 1979-80 slate of Officers are as follows:

President Helen Aycock of Simpkins Engineering; Vice-president Nancy Lawrence of H. Gordon Myrick; Treasurer Erma Lamounis, of J. O. Collins; Recording Secretary Barbara Bain of Sharp Electric; and Correspondence Secretary, Pam Lee of O'Neal Engineering.

Dot Simmons of the Jackson

The next regular monthly meeting will be held Nov. 20, time and place to be announced later.

All women employed in any phase of the construction industry are invited to attend the meetings. For further information about "WICS," call Nancy Lawrence at H. Gordon Myrick, 864-9911.

Clowns, elephants and girls spell 'circus'

Retired Federal Employees to meet

Members of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees Gulf Breeze Chapter 1571 will meet at Gulfport Holiday Inn Friday, at 11 a.m.

Delegates will report on the 14th Annual Convention of the Mississippi Federation of NARFE held in Columbus, October 21-23.

Gulf Breeze Chapter officers will be elected at the Nov. 2 meeting. Mrs. Woodrow Owen will give a report on the fall foliage tour to New England and Canada, and plans for the Chapter Christmas party will be discussed.

Chapter President Franklin Cuevas invited federal retirees and federal employees 50 years old or over, with at least 5 years of service, to attend the luncheon meeting and join NARFE and the Gulf Breeze Chapter which supports legislation beneficial to them.

What's For Lunch?

By S. Grady Thigpen

Hancock and Pearl Counties grew with wars, railroads

The history of that part of Mississippi lying south of the 31st degree of latitude, which is the northern boundary of Pearl River County, is very different from that part of Mississippi north of this line. If you had lived in Pearl River or Hancock counties, or in the area to the east and to the west of two counties between 1699 and 1763, you would have been a citizen of France, as this area was a French colony back then. During this time there was considerable migration of French settlers to this area, especially in what are now Hancock and Harrison counties. When I first started in business in Picayune in 1919 we often had older people come in who spoke French, some of them able to speak only French, except in a very limited way.

If you had lived in this same general area from 1763 to 1776, you would have been an English citizen; as the English claimed this section at that time. If you had lived from 1776 to 1808, you would have been a citizen of Spain; as this section was a Spanish province at that time. The Spanish were more active in trying to attract settlers. They offered, practically free, big tracts of land to people who would settle in the area. As a result of Spanish efforts to attract settlers, all the land along the Pearl River was granted to homesteaders. The land records today show the irregular boundaries of these properties.

Old people 50 years ago told me of an Indian massacre just east of Nicholson in the early days. Mr. Tom Bennett, now dead, lived at the location of the homes of the white men who were killed. The men were slain, and the women and children carried to the Indian town which stood just east of Caesar. In 1808, there began a movement to form a new nation in this area with the name of West Florida. After 3 years of meetings and planning, the United States, in 1811, occupied this area. As a result, the efforts for a new nation named West Florida were abandoned. In late 1814, a most important event began taking place. Unheralded and unannounced, Andrew Jackson's army on the way to defend the city of New Orleans began arriving here. Within a short time the artillery and heavy equipment section of what is now Caesar. There is evidence there to this day to show where this section of this army camped for at least a few days in what is now northwest Picayune at the Indian village which stood where the home of the R.H. Crosby family now is. Jackson's army was said to be the biggest movement of soldiers in US history to travel through wild, sparsely settled country, and to live off the country they went through. Mr. Dan Cooper who died at an old age about 50 or more years ago told of his father seeing this army come through this area 4 miles east of Picayune. For the artillery and heavy equipment section of the army a road was prepared in advance. He told of how the army passed where the Coopers lived and of how there was a continuous stream of wagons that took 3 whole days to pass their home. This group passed going south about 4 miles east of Picayune. At least two other sections of this army marched through this county, one of them passing between what are now Carriere and McNeil and camping on Long Branch out near Henleyfield, and crossing Pearl River at Poole's bluff. A third part of this army marched across what is now the north end of Pearl River County. Jackson, himself, was with this section. He stayed at least one night in the home of a family that lived just south of where Lumberton now is. The next important event in our history was the coming of the Civil War. A federal gun

Picayune and Nicholson got their names. Eliza Jane Poitevent Nicholson grew up in what is now Picayune. As a young woman she went to New Orleans to work for that great old time daily paper, the Daily Picayune, now the Times-Picayune. She married the owner of the paper. He died in a short time and she became

Five bishops here today

BY WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Five Roman Catholic bishops, four of them alumni of the Divine Word Seminary of St. Augustine in Bay St. Louis, will gather at the seminary Sunday to celebrate a 3 p.m. Mass.

Joining the four of five seminary graduates to have been elevated to bishop will be Bishop Joseph Howze of the Biloxi Diocese.

A program of sacred music will precede the Mass at 2:30 p.m.

The public is invited to the event which honors Bishop Raymond Caesar, SVD, a Louisiana native, fifth Papua, New Guinea.

This will also be the first time the seminary's bishops will meet for a concelebrated Mass.

A pre-Mass program of music is slated for 2:30 p.m.

Joining the four of five seminary graduates to have been elevated to bishop will be Bishop Joseph Howze of the Biloxi Diocese.

A program of sacred music will precede the Mass at 2:30 p.m.

The public is invited to the event which honors Bishop Raymond Caesar, SVD, a Louisiana native, fifth

N.J.; and Bishop Carlos A. Lewis, SVD, of Panama.

Bishop Howze, head of the

unable to attend.

The public is also invited to speak with the bishops after the Mass which will be mission-oriented.

Immaculate Heart of Mary's parish choir, Lafayette, La. and St. Rose de Lima's choir, Bay St. Louis will provide music.

Bishop Francis will deliver the homily.

Born on February 14, 1932 in Eunice, La., son of Prosper Caesar and Celena Como, both deceased, Bishop Caesar entered Divine Word Seminary in Bay St. Louis as a freshman in 1947 and he graduated in 1951.

He then entered the Divine Word Novitiate, he professed his first vows in 1953.

Two years prior to ordination, Bishop Caesar pronounced his perpetual vows.

One of a class of seven,

Bishop Caesar was ordained on May 4, 1961 at Divine Word Seminary.

After completing his master's degree in education at Catholic University, Washington, D.C., Bishop Caesar's first appointment was an assignment to the society's missions in New Guinea in 1962.

From the beginning of his ministry he has been very active in the training of local clergy for the priesthood and religious life.

Prior to his ordination as bishop he was vicar general for the Diocese of Goroka.

CHANGE-Trevor Howard, left, and Martin Sheen are the featured players along with Cyril Cusack in "Catholics," a 90-minute film adaptation of the critically acclaimed short novel by Brian Moore. Winner of a Peabody Award, "Catholics" deals with one man's defiant resistance to change in the face of another's power to enforce it. First seen on CBS' "Playhouse 90" series, the film will be telecast at 8 p.m., Monday, October 29, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

with the concelebrated Mass beginning at 3 p.m.

Celebrating with Bishop Caesar will be Bishop Harold R. Perry, SVD, of New Orleans; Bishop Joseph A. Francis, SVD, of Newmark,

BISHOP CARLOS LEWIS

Biloxi Diocese, will preside at the ceremony.

Because of recent hurricanes damaging his diocese, Bishop Joseph O. Bowers, SVD, of St. John's, Antigua, a St. Augustine alumnus, is unable to attend.

The public is also invited to speak with the bishops after the Mass which will be mission-oriented.

There's an Answer!

Nights are terrible. Q. How can I stop worrying about my own problems and my grandchildren's problems too? Their troubles are my troubles. How can I shut my mind to these thoughts? I do not make friends easily, and being handicapped I do not go too much as I worry about having car trouble on the road. Therefore I am a very lonely person. The nights are terrible to get through. I don't know when I have had a good night's sleep.

A. Your question contains several questions, but there is one basic answer. You need to learn how to live. Your mind is racing constantly round and round with trouble thoughts. We need to learn in this life to take our thoughts in hand and control them. We are not supposed to be constantly harassed by our thoughts, but to be helped by them.

So when you start worrying, stop it by doing all you can about a situation and then, when there is nothing more that you can do, leave it in the hands of God, and forget it. We are sending you our booklet, Thoughts, which has helped others with problems such as yours. It is free to any reader of this column. Write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564. Hang on or let go?

Q. My husband, 52, is seeing a younger woman. He told me he loves her but not in the same way he loves me. Says he will never leave our home or divorce me and will always provide for me, but that he must have this "private part of his life" which he says he deserves. Deep down inside I feel this may be a passing thing. Am I foolish for hanging on? My love is strong but I'm very hurt at this point. Shall I end our marriage?

A. Sometimes men go haywire at his age; fading manhood and all that sort of thing; thoughts of new romance to prove something. Trust your deep down inside feeling. Perhaps you need to take a serious look into yourself and ask why he turns elsewhere for sex relationship. It can be that he loves you as a kind of mother figure and the other "lady" as a woman. Study yourself to find out whether you are being motherly—or an exciting companion. I'm sure if you are smart and confident enough you can recover your aging boy.

Never been kissed. Q. I'm a 19-year-old woman, and I don't ever seem to develop a relationship with a man. I'm not a great beauty, but I am pleasant looking, have a sense of humor and am interesting to talk to. I'm not an outgoing person, but I make an effort to let a guy know I find him attractive. But it doesn't do me any good. I'm beginning to think there's something wrong with me. At my age I've never even been kissed. Sometimes this whole thing gets me so depressed. I have begun to give up hope.

A. Your question and the manner in which you phrase it shows that you are a likeable girl. There is a 21-year-old man somewhere who is likeable, just like you. Hold a picture of him in your mind. Take a piece of paper and write a description of him. Then thank God that He is going to bring the two of you together in His own good time.

One of these days you two will meet and know each other and by this method will have one of those "marriage made in heaven." I really mean this advice as sound and serious. It is a positive approach to a human problem which has been suggested to other young women and men with wonderful results.

ATTEND CHURCH

Alice Burton & children are shown accepting delivery of their new Chevrolet Station Wagon from Turan-Lane Chevrolet Salesman Carlross Carter.

"After shopping New Orleans and Slidell we found the best deal at Turan-Lane Chevrolet in Bay St. Louis. Carlross Carter greeted us & showed us their fine selection of new cars. We decided on the Impala wagon & Carlross worked us out the best deal we had been offered and worked out the financing also. I would like to recommend Carlross & Turan-Lane Chevrolet for good deals & friendly, courteous treatment."

The Sea Coast Echo Religion

88-SUNDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1979

By DR. L. S. WALKER
ARE YOU SAVED? Is it well with your soul? Well, is it?

This is not only a vital question, but one which comes straight from the Word of God. From the Philippian Jail, as recorded in Acts 16:37-40, comes the most important question ever asked; and immediately comes the answer from Paul and Silas, God's servants who were incarcerated in the Philippian Jail at midnight: "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" And they said, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved..."

Note how Paul expresses God's concern: "For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth," - I Tim. 2:3-4.

The Apostle Peter declares: "The Lord is... not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance," - II Pet. 3:9.

The paramount burden of the Scriptures is that men would be saved. This was and is the over-riding purpose and concern in the atoning sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ on Calvary.

Among the saddest words ever penned or uttered are found in Jeremiah 8:20: "The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved."

How sad, how sad indeed! All the seasons of opportunity have come and gone, and "we are not saved."

These lines are penned by you in mind, dear friend! Don't allow the favorable seasons of hope and opportunity to pass without settling this most vital matter between you and your Maker.

"Behold, now is the acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation," - II Cor. 6:2.

"Look unto me, and be ye saved, for I am God, and there is none else," comes the call of God by Isaiah - Isa. 45:22.

Finally, may I leave for your sober and prayerful consideration, the compassionate invitation of our Lord Himself: "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your soul," - Matt. 11:28-29.

Rev. Rogers named area developer

The Lutheran Church in America has appointed the Rev. Thomas Rogers to the post of Pastor-Developer in Gulfport.

Pastor Rogers will spend the next several months calling in the Orange Grove area and other sections along the Coast to determine the interest and feasibility of organizing a new Lutheran congregation.

If sufficient interest is found, the new congregation, All Saints Lutheran Church, will begin worship services in the spring of 1980.

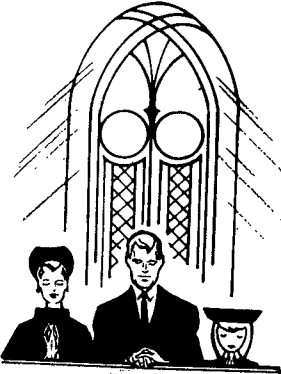

Pastor Rogers has a background in civil engineering and corporate management prior to his seminary training. He graduated from Wittenberg University and Hamma School of Theology and served as the director of the Neighborhood Church Clinic in Springfield, Ohio.

He and his wife, Glenda, come to the Gulf Coast from Donnelsville, Ohio where he served a congregation the past five years. They are now residing at 2 Crestwood Dr. in the Orange Grove area, telephone 832-8079.

Rev. Rogers noted the Lutheran Church in America is not affiliated with the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, to which the Lutheran Church of the Pines in Waveland is a member.

Hancock Library System reports new acquisitions

COMPILED BY SHERRY SCHWABACHER

An exciting week at the Library, as we receive new novels by Kurt Vonnegut and Stephen King and a beautiful book on tools as collectors items! All of the following books, including these, are now available from any of the libraries of the Hancock County Library System:

AMERICAN WOODWORKING TOOLS by Paul B. Kebabian. A beautifully illustrated volume for the collector or anyone interested in antiques of the everyday history of our country as it was built by craftsmen using these tools.

SAVED! by William Hoffer.

SAVED! is the riveting, minute-by-minute account of the greatest sea rescue in history, the story of the ANDREA DORIA.

LIFE MANIPULATION: FROM TEST-TUBE BABIES TO AGING by David G. Lygre. The human implications of cloning, biofeedback, parthenogenesis, psychosurgery, delayed aging, test-tube babies, redesigned organs, artificial wombs, selective abortions, human gene-splicing, artificial insemination, sex preselection of fetuses, life-sustenance after brain death, prenatal diagnosis of birth defects, and other wonders of biomedical research.

HOW TO DRY FOODS by Deanna DeLong. Enjoy wholesome dried fruits, vegetables, meats and fish with over 100 delicious tested recipes. Easy, economical ways to dry food in the sun, your oven, or in a dryer you can make or buy.

MALE MODEL by Charles Hix. Not a sensationalized expose, but a serious and candid book that brings the world of the male model alive in over a hundred different photographs and lets us see the people behind the faces.

A SHARP RISE IN CRIME by John Creasy. Published posthumously, this is the last novel featuring Roger West of Scotland yard. By disguising himself as one of the world's most notorious arch-criminals, the Inspector is able to penetrate to the heart of a nest of potential evildoers in a daring attempt to put an end to the vice and corruption that is undermining society.

JAILBIRD by Kurt Vonnegut. Vonnegut's finest novel in some time, JAILBIRD is an inventive political satire, with Vonnegut zeroing in on American politics from the days of Sacco and Vanzetti through Watergate. It is all a great deal of fun.

THE DEAD ZONE by Stephen King (best-selling author of CARRIE, SALEM'S LOT, THE SHINING, NIGHT SHIFT, and THE STAND). In this gripping tale of an or-number of bestselling paperback series, including the "Kent Family Chronicles" and Bantam's "Wagons West" series by Dana Fuller Ross. In November, Bantam will publish White Indian by Donald Clayton Porter, the first in a new Lyle Kenyon Engel fiction series, the "Colonization of America."

Robert Hawkins, who graduated from Trinity College in Hartford, Connecticut, teaches at the Hotchkiss School in Lakeville, Connecticut as a master of English and French. He is the author and coauthor of several books on literature for students.

Artist Ron Toelke is a founding partner in a graphic design studio in Chatham, New York and has a particular interest in drawing and painting subjects from American and military history, as well as costume and fashion history.

Kids Want Parents To Stop Smoking

"Lots of children are trying to convince people they love to quit smoking," says G. Gordon Beck, president of the American Lung Association. This letter from a Connecticut youngster, he says, reflects the distress in so many letters received by the Christmas Seal people:

Dear Lung Association, My mother smokes. She cut down for a week then started again.

I cry about it alot. When I tell her to cut down again she either gets bothered or embarrassed. It would make me a lot more relaxed if she stopped. Can you help me PLEASE. My name is Amelia. I am eight years old.

"Lung associations send the children materials about smoking to give their parents. We also acknowledge the concern that's there. We tell children like Amelia that their concern shows how much they care about the parent. And we ask them to show our letter to their mom or dad."

"Often parents feel harassed and miss the caring that prompts the child's actions," he says. "We also tell children it's not easy for everyone to quit. People have to stop in their own time in their own way."

"What's crucial, we urge all youngsters, is that they themselves stay nonsmokers and protect their lungs for a lifetime."

After participating in anti-smoking school programs sponsored by lung associations, children sometimes write to those they love directly.

This letter was written by a seventh-grader in Missouri: Dear Gramps,

I love you so much. If you stop smoking, you'll live longer to watch me grow. So Gramps, I hope you will live until 100 so I can love you a long time.

"We don't know what Gramps' response was," says Beck, "but we do know that if we raise a generation of non-smokers, the problem of lung disease would drop dramatically in this country. And that's what the American Lung Association wants to happen."

100,000 children under the age of 13 are regular smokers, says the American Lung Association. The Christmas Seal people are asking parents to help encourage a smoke-free generation.

Children are smoking at younger and younger ages, says the American Lung Association. The Christmas Seal people are asking parents to help them encourage a smoke-free generation.

BOOK REVIEW

Tens of millions of readers have followed the adventures of the Kent Family, set against the first hundred years of American history through the seven novels in John Jakes' extraordinarily successful The Kent Family Chronicles.

Now, Lyle Kenyon Engel, producer of the series, presents THE KENT FAMILY CHRONICLES ENCYCLOPEDIA.

To be published as a Bantam Original on Nov. 1, this new companion volume to the series contains newly written condensations of The Bastard, The Rebel, The Seekers, The Furies, The Titans, The Warriors, and The Lawless as well as over 175 detailed, historically accurate drawings by artist Ron Toelke and seven original background essays on American life from 1770-1877.

Two MCA-Universal

television mini-series, based on the books, have been seen by millions of viewers with "The Seekers," a third Jakes Operation Prime Time mini-series, scheduled to air in November.

From England in the 1770's to the American Empire, the series of background essays (one for each of the seven Kent novels) provides greater historical detail on the events and times through which members of the Kent Family moved. The historical drawings, prepared expressly for this book by Ron Toelke, depict the costumes, uniforms, houses, conveyances and other items of the Kent's daily life. There is also a Kent Family Tree and a complete list of over 100 major characters who appear in the multi-volume saga.

Lyle Kenyon Engel, one of America's most successful book producers, has created a number of bestselling paperback series, including the "Kent Family Chronicles" and Bantam's "Wagons West" series by Dana Fuller Ross.

In November, Bantam will publish White Indian by Donald Clayton Porter, the first in a new Lyle Kenyon Engel fiction series, the "Colonization of America."

Robert Hawkins, who graduated from Trinity College in Hartford, Connecticut, teaches at the Hotchkiss School in Lakeville, Connecticut as a master of English and French. He is the author and coauthor of several books on literature for students.

Artist Ron Toelke is a founding partner in a graphic design studio in Chatham, New York and has a particular interest in drawing and painting subjects from American and military history, as well as costume and fashion history.
